In 2015 I was asked to create a family show for a small festival in England in a small town called Folkstone. "Can you also make it about Folkstone?" They said. "Of course!" I had replied before realising I didn't know anything about Folkstone.

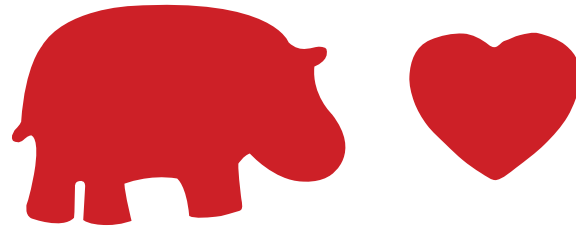

It also turned out that Folkstone did not have a great many magical things to make shows about either...until I found out that Folkstone was where ancient hippo bones had been discovered! Real hippo's used to live in England! I began to dream of hippo's wandering around the English countryside, or the highstreet or in a local supermarket ..what a funny and beautiful idea...perfect for a show! I was also asked to make something interactive and for all ages... the mad hippo scientists with their terrible puns and witty asides were for the grownups...the hippo is for everyone.

Jouni Bäckström was at the premiere of the show in Brighton, and fortunately he also began to dream of wild hippo's wandering around his home country. Creating a Finnish version of this show with Jouni and Taina and Kapsäkki has been a fantastic adventure and a dream in itself. I am so happy and grateful to be working with such a talented team who all agree that the hippo really is for everyone.
